SPECTRUM & CUTTING EDGE AWARDS WINNER

Valaree Wahler of Elyzian Fine Jewelry Wins Prestigious 2025 AGTA Spectrum for Excellence in Evening Wear

Valaree Wahler, Co-Founder of Elyzian Fine Jewelry and Royal American Diamonds, has been honored with the 2025 AGTA Spectrum Award for Excellence in Evening Wear. The award recognizes her debut high-jewelry design for Elyzian, a remarkable necklace named Parure d'Aurore.

The winning piece was crafted in 18k yellow gold and features an exceptional array of freeform cabochon gemstones: a 62.79 ct pink tourmaline, a 32.41 ct peridot, a 25.35 ct aquamarine, and a 26.18 ct heliodor. Each gemstone was custom-cut in the renowned German town of Idar-Oberstein and framed by 8.36 carats of D-color, VVS1 diamonds. Designed by Valaree Wahler and finished in Elyzian's Newport Beach atelier, the necklace merges Old-World craftsmanship with California's fluid, light-inspired artistry.

The Parure d'Aurore serves as the cornerstone for Elyzian's new Chroma Forme Collection, a study in the interplay of color, form, and light. The collection translates the sculptural spirit of the award-winning necklace into fine jewelry pieces designed for daily wear.
