Beyond the Boardroom: A New Kind of Meeting Space in Orange County

As companies rethink where and how they bring people together, the setting has become an increasingly important part of the experience. Meetings are no longer confined to the traditional conference room, and businesses are looking for spaces that can accommodate everything from focused leadership sessions to larger team gatherings and events.

Located at FLIGHT at Tustin Legacy, Assembly was designed with that flexibility in mind. The stylish event space blends modern architecture with a relaxed coastal feel, offering a distinctive setting in the heart of Orange County for gatherings of up to 220 people.

Its adaptable layouts and indoor-outdoor configurations allow Assembly to accommodate a wide range of occasions, including executive meetings, conferences, trainings, networking events, employee or client events, receptions, and other private gatherings. The space can shift from an intimate setting for smaller groups to a larger event environment, giving hosts the ability to tailor the experience around the purpose of each gathering.

Practical amenities are built into the experience as well, with audiovisual capabilities, Wi-Fi, catering options, and ample on-site parking help simplify planning for hosts and attendees alike.

Assembly offers companies an alternative to the conventional boardroom or hotel ballroom: a flexible, thoughtfully designed space where meetings, events, and celebrations can take shape in a setting that feels anything but routine.
